Mission of the LEPC

Being Prepared. Ready to Respond.

The LEPC has been established to provide guidance to business facilities in Frederick County that manufacture, store, or use hazardous materials, on the proper reporting practices; review current hazardous materials operations plans; inform and educate the public about chemical facilities in the community and actions that can be taken in the event of an accidental hazardous materials incident; support the fixed-facility pre-planning process; and enhance the emergency preparedness capabilities of governmental and emergency response agencies associated with hazardous materials incidents that may occur in Frederick County.

Emergency Preparedness

There are simple steps that county residents can take now to prepare themselves and their loved ones for an emergency, including a chemical spill:

Make a kit, make a plan, and get informed.

By gathering supplies to meet basic needs, discussing in advance what to do during an emergency with family members, and by being aware of the risks and appropriate actions, citizens will be better prepared for the unexpected. Ultimately, you will help better prepare your communities and Frederick County.

Annual Drill

The Frederick County LEPC will conduct an annual functional exercise to evaluate local and state first responders' actions to a hazardous materials incident. The annual exercise is designed to simulate emergency situations and will help improve preparedness on several levels. Drills help to educate staff and responders on disaster plans and procedures, understand their roll in an emergency, reveal gaps in resources, uncover planning weaknesses, and prompt improvements.

Meetings

The public is encouraged to participate in the work of the LEPC by attendance at meetings. Please see the LEPC website for dates and locations. The LEPC will meet monthly or as it otherwise determines.
